Headline:
Blustery showers. Gales at first in far north.

Today:
Brighter spells and showers today, with outbreaks frequent during morning, particularly in west, bringing risk of hail and thunder. Showers easing through afternoon, with brightness increasing particularly towards Inverness. Strong westerly winds perhaps touching gale across far north initially. Maximum temperature 7 deg C (45 deg F).

Tonight:
Scattered showers through the evening, which merge to longer periods of rain towards dawn, as the strong westerly winds back southwest and occasionally touch gale force. Minimum temperature 1 deg C (34 deg F).

Tuesday:
An overcast day with periods of rain, persistent and heavy across western areas. Strong west to southwest winds touching gale in west. Maximum temperature 12 deg C (54 deg F).

Outlook for Wednesday to Friday:
Wednesday rather cloudy with patchy rain in south, while north stays dry and occasionally bright. Thursday and Friday mainly fine, dry and occasionally sunny.
